Famulus de Episcopo CECO Fellowship School of Adjutancy,Arnulfo Peat, Jr.,David Stevens, Sr.,2013-05 Famulus de Episcopo is a manual which provides insight into the nuances of adjutancy and is referenced as a resource for the certification of adjutants within CECO. The contents of its pages also serve as a benchmark in basic knowledge for those who serve as adjutants, by outlining the qualifications for service as well as illustrating key concepts for successful discipleship which can be applied to the individual, local as well as national levels of ministry. The practical guidelines which exist in this work provide a structure by which a church or reformation can stand up its own adjutancy and govern them according to the tenants seen herein. Famulus de Episcopo is a manual, a reference, a benchmark and a resource for every adjutant and episcopate who wishes to further their knowledge of the adjutancy, episcopacy and the relationship between the two. Everyone who serves, and everyone who utilizes a Godly servant can readily find benefit on these pages.

BRIXMIS and the Secret Cold War Andrew Long, 2024-09-30 A detailed account of British intelligence operations in Cold War East Germany, revealing Soviet and East German military secrets from 1946 to 1990. The German Democratic Republic, or East Germany, was the frontline in the Cold War, packed with hundreds of thousands of Soviet and East German troops armed with the latest Warsaw Pact equipment, lined up along the 1,400 km Inner German Border. However, because of the repressive East German police state, little human intelligence about these forces reached the West. Who were they? Where were they located? What were they doing? How were they equipped? What were their intentions? NATO was lined up in West Germany to face these forces and relied on getting up-to-date intelligence to warn of any threat, 'Indicators of Hostility' that could be a precursor to an invasion. BRIXMIS, the British Commanders'-in-Chief Mission to the Soviet Forces in Germany, was on hand to provide that intelligence. Thanks to an obscure 1946 agreement between the British and Soviets that established 'liaison missions' in their respective zones of occupation, the British were able to send highly qualified military 'observers' into East Germany to roam (relatively) freely and keep an eye on what was going on. What started as 'liaison', a point of contact between the British and Soviet occupation forces, developed into a very sophisticated intelligence collection operation, sending 'tours' out every day of the year, between 1946 and when the Mission closed in 1990. These tours were undertaken in high-performance, highly modified marked vehicles, with personnel in uniform and unarmed, apart from professional photographic equipment and occasionally some top-secret gadgets from the boffins back in the UK. They joined their French and American colleagues in snooping around the opposition, photographing military bases, equipment, and maneuvers, and trying to evade capture by the secret police and counterintelligence units. They faced danger and violence daily, but thanks to their bravery and professionalism, the West had accurate and up-to-date information on what was happening in East Germany which helped keep the peace all that time. This is the story of this little-known unit and their exploits behind enemy lines.
